

Horse owners: Your chance to show you CARE!

The CARE study is an opportunity to help your horse and prevent future generations of horses from suffering by submitting regular online updates on your horse's health.

The study aims to identify risk factors which could address some of the most worrying welfare challenges we face today, particularly laminitis.

Whatever your horse's age, use, breed or current health status, their data is vital to the future of horse health. Please sign up today and help us find out more about horse health!
